

The THS teachers and staff are excited about this year's seniors' impact on the world.

McLaughlin commented, "The sky is the limit for the class, and adaptability will be a key for the future, and 23 has shown that they can adapt and overcome."

Smith remarked, "I am really excited to see how people turn out. People have big plans and are going to big schools. Hopefully, I will see some people as doctors and researchers."

Polansky agreed with Smith, commenting, "Absolutely [I am excited for the future of the class], I can't wait to see what they accomplish. I feel secure knowing that many will become leaders of society."

O'Lare commented, "They have pretty high aspirations and are reaching for the stars. I am excited to see them get there."
